

QUEST IN HIGH SCHOOL? SERIOUSLY?

A Conversation with Linda Collins about the Academic and Social-Emotional Needs of Gifted Students in High School

Linda E. Collins, MEd, is a high school gifted education teacher at Olathe Northwest High School. She has a special interest in working with 2e students, enjoys researching and writing about gifted students, and presents nationally. Linda was the semi-finalist for Region 3, Kansas Teacher of the Year, 2009; was Kansas Master Teacher of the Year for Blue Valley School District, 2004; was named a 2013 Sunflower Ambassador for the Blue Valley School District; is a member of the Editorial board for SENG, and the Assessment of Giftedness special interest group at NAGC. Linda is a published author, has four children, and is married to her high school sweetheart (who teaches at Olathe South). Linda has worked with gifted students for the past 15 years, and has been a teacher for 28 years. Currently, she is completing a doctorate at University of Kansas.
